

Not your average baby wear

Looking for something different to give those uncommonly cute babies in your life? Uncommonly Cute lets you buy clothing that fits children's personalities, not just their body or an ideal of what a baby should look like. With their "no trucks, princesses or puppies allowed" rule, Uncommonly Cute has created onesies and T-shirts that say on the outside what babies are saying on the inside, including "Elmo is My Homeboy," "Fashionista," "Future Mrs. Pitt," "Swinger" and "Miso Cute." These irreverent sayings are emblazoned on 100 percent combed cotton wares. Hollywood is buzzing about these products and you will too! For more information, visit www.uncommonlycute.com.
